Houses

The House System is a traditional feature of sainik schools in india. A house referred to a boarding house or student house of a boarding school. In the case of sainik schools it refers to a group of students, rather than to a particular building.

The House System exists mainly for the purpose of healthy competition, based around the philosophy of inclusion and team work. There is a growing number of varied competitions and they have House points connected to them. These points are accumulated throughout the year to produce an overall winning House called Cock House.The Sainik School has 4 (four) houses and they are:-
